Why Do We Dream? The Role of Dreams and Nightmares

Dreaming, much like binge-watching Netflix, is one of those things we all do, but no one seems to understand why. We don't dream every time we sleep, and when we do, it's usually of some random scenario that makes no sense. We sometimes wake up with a vague recollection of a dream, but we typically can't piece together anything concrete.

When you dream about someone being mad at you, the first step is to figure out if there really is reason for them to be mad. If there isn't, it may be an issue within yourself.

What It Means If Someone Is Mad At You In Your Dream

Eymology. The term lucid dream was coined by Dutch author and psychiatrist Frederik van Eeden in his 1913 article A Study of Dreams, though descriptions of dreamers being aware that they are dreaming predate the article. Van Eeden studied his own dreams between January 20, 1898, and December 26, 1912, recording the ones he deemed most important in a dream diary. 352 of these dreams are ...
